IDEAS FOR DECORATION

- Download the free illustration pack featuring the images from each day's stories. These can be printed as posters or shown on a large screen.
- Download the free character illustration pack featuring a person from each day's stories. These can be turned into large cardboard cutouts and hidden in different places each day for kids to seek and find. You might consider awarding points or prizes when kids spot the day's character and tell you a little about them from what they've learned that day.
- To decorate the room, go for nature backdrops with plenty of animals, as these visuals recur in Seek and Find Bible Storybook. We recommend...
 - Flowers and greenery
 - Paper birds hung from above
 - Animal toys or cutouts
 - Binoculars, magnifying glasses and other "seek and find" type items
- Colour in some free bunting crafts ahead of time to decorate with, or string kids' bunting sheets up, adding to them each day before the kids take their completed bunting home.

FINAL DAY PRESENTATION FOR PARENTS

If your week ends with an event parents are invited to attend, you might consider:

SEEK AND FIND LIVING STORIES

- Divide kids into groups. Each group should prepare to pose as a scene from one of the Bible stories they've read that week.
- One by one, the groups come up to present their poses to the audience while a leader summarises the Bible story.
- The kids in the group can conclude by reciting the key point for that story.
- The leader could list a couple of things to spot in the posed scene, inviting parents to call out what they see.

CONCERT AND RECITATION

- Divide kids into five groups, and select one child from each group who is confident in public speaking.
- Begin with the selected child reciting the first day's memory verse.
- Then the first group to present recites the first day's theme together.
- Everyone sings a worship song.
- Repeat for each day's theme, giving each group their turn to shine.
